

ABOUT KENWAY

WHY KENWAY EXISTS

At its core, Kenway exists to help companies in need. More importantly, we want to help the people at those companies that want help. For our employees, it's about identifying when help is needed, and being willing to provide it and accept it without judgment. This is why we exist. This is why our employees work at Kenway. And this is why we do the work we do for our clients and for ourselves. To help and be helped. This is our Why.

OUR GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Although outcomes serve as a wonderful measuring stick for performance, focusing too much on outcomes may in fact incentivize less than optimal means of achieving them. Unlike most companies, we believe outcomes are simply a byproduct of adhering to strict means. Our means are Kenway's Guiding Principles, a list of paths forward, guides for decision making in complex situations. They focus on integrity, quality, value and respect for each of us as individuals. Oaths, if you will, that each of us as Kenway employees promises to uphold regardless of what the outcome may bring.
