

A background image showing two people in business attire shaking hands over a desk with a laptop and papers.

MEET THE

KENWAY EXPERTS

As an organization, we are driven by our guiding principles. This means acting with integrity and communicating effectively to provide our clients with the highest quality of consulting services. Our team of experts embodies these principles in everything they do and have combined experience working with and for Fortune 500 companies in regulatory, compliance, and technology capacities, preparing these clients for the road ahead.

DEBBIE SANGER
Management Consultant

As an experienced Management Consultant, Debbie has an extensive background in implementing compliance and regulatory changes within the financial services industry—including spearheading GDPR and CCPA initiatives for Fortune 500 companies in the Chicago area.

In her time at Kenway, Debbie has worked on various projects that have involved determining how data lives and interacts, how to manage and build tools around it, and how to use it to achieve compliance with new and changing regulations.

Before joining Kenway, Debbie spent sixteen years in the asset management and hedge fund industry, where she also contributed to numerous compliance and regulatory change processes.

CLAYTON WOLFF
Management Consultant

As a skilled Management Consultant, Clayton has extensive experience in the design and redesign of business processes and technology requirements documentation.

In his time at Kenway, Clayton has led many projects that involve highly complex business processes in the technology space. He has applied this expertise to the implementation of programs that help clients achieve GDPR and CCPA compliance.

Having contributed to regulatory and compliance projects in the past, Clayton has a strong familiarity with the types of data and players involved in these projects. He has implemented GDPR and CCPA for Fortune 500 companies in the Chicago area.

JEANNE-MARIE DALY
Management Consultant

As a proficient Management Consultant, Jeanne-Marie has extensive experience in aligning business objectives with IT capabilities.

In her time at Kenway, Jeanne-Marie has led projects involving Master Data Management (MDM) solutions and Data Governance, important areas when it comes to the implementation of GDPR and CCPA compliance programs. In particular, Jeanne-Marie helped clients with the initial steps towards CCPA compliance and the implementation of a digital marketing tool that had to comply with GDPR requirements.

Before joining Kenway, Jeanne-Marie spent more than 20 years at Accenture leading the strategy, delivery, and operations of the company's internal MDM solution. She has successfully managed data quality issues and risks, while guiding a variety of Data Governance and MDM implementation projects. She has also developed expertise in continuous process improvement (including CMM), technical and integration architecture, infrastructure management, and systems implementation.

Jeanne-Marie had the honor of presenting at the Chicago MDM and Data Governance Summit in July 2019.

MICHAEL RADFORD
Chief Technology Officer

As Chief Technology Officer, Michael has led multiple projects that involve providing solution architecture and data architecture to clients. As an expert in data management and governance, Michael has a strong understanding of meta data analysis tools that play a key part in the compliance solutions for CCPA. Prior to Kenway, Michael spent his career creating custom software and data solutions.

ABOUT KENWAY

Kenway Consulting is a management and technology consulting firm that empowers financial services companies to thrive in tomorrow's market by helping them with compliance and regulatory changes, data and analytics, technology implementations and transformations, and process improvements.